Dr. Alan Greenberg has been delivering superior medical care as a board-certified gynecologist and obstetrician since 1987 and has been recognized by D Magazine as a "Best Doctor in Dallas."

Dr. Greenberg has expanded his proficient and meticulous surgical skills into a subspecialty called Cosmetogynecology. Limiting his cosmetic practice to two in-office surgical procedures, Dr. Greenberg provides the depth of expertise and focus to deliver stunning transformations.

LIPO BODY SCULPTING

Body sculpting can target areas disproportionate to the rest of a physique. Like traditional liposuction, office liposuction (or lipo body sculpting) permanently removes localized fat deposits from between the skin and muscle. But office liposuction is different because the patient is awake, using only local anesthesia, and the insertion points are only a few millimeters in size, thereby reducing blood loss, bruising and infection risk. Dr. Greenberg is able to give the patient smoother, tighter contours with minimal down time.

WHAT IS LIPOABDOMINOPLASTY?

Lipoabdominoplasty is a revolutionary, minimally invasive tummy tuck technique performed by Dr. Greenberg in his office. During this procedure, liposuction of the abdomen (and sometimes waist) is used for contour and fat removal. This step creates an empty space under the skin; the sagging skin is then removed.

Because the combination of liposuction and minimally invasive tummy tuck can be done under local, tumescent anesthesia in the office, Dr. Greenberg is able to lower the risk profile and provide the benefit of a quicker, less painful recovery compared to a traditional tummy tuck. This allows him to deliver gorgeous results at a considerably decreased cost to you. Lipoabdominoplasty can give your abdomen the flatter, more youthful appearance you desire without undergoing major surgery or a prolonged, postoperative down time.

Dr. Greenberg's in-office procedures deliver attractive, contoured lines and an optimal body shape to enhance your overall appearance and confidence. Dr. Greenberg brings the skill and expertise you deserve from a caring, compassionate doctor you trust.
